

Annexation Is Upheld on Appeal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court today upheld the validity of an appeal to Union County Circuit Court that led to the inclusion of a grocery service station in an El Dorado annexation.

Charles Skinner, owner of the grocery, had contended that the three men who appealed successfully to Circuit Judge Melvin Mayfield did not have the right to appeal.

Skinner had claimed that the failure of the three to file a written pleading to Union County court deprived them of any standing to appeal from the annexation orders.

The county court had granted El Dorado's petition for the annexation of land Jan. 29, 1968 and later modified its annexation order to insert in its description of the territory a clause that would have exempted Skinner's lot which measures 330 by 110 feet.

On appeal, Mayfield modified the county court order by including the Skinner lot in the area to be annexed.

In disagreeing with Skinner's contention, the Supreme Court said at least two of the three persons who had appealed had appeared originally in county court to protest the annexation and that this gave them the right to take their case to circuit court.

One of the three owns a grocery store that was taken into the city in the annexation. The county court's exemption of the Skinner property had the effect of allowing Skinner to operate his business on Sunday, a privilege not afforded grocers within the city limits.

In another opinion, the high court upheld a Conway Circuit Court award of $50,000 to Mrs. Paula Lynch. Mrs. Lynch was injured in a fall on a stairway at St. Anthony's Hospital in Morrilton on Jan. 29, 1967.

The court ruled that the hospital should be held negligent because the stairway did not have a landing as required by the state Health Department.

invalid because it made it more difficult to obtain assistance for housing for the poor and for minorities than to obtain assistance for other groups.

The ruling covered a similar case from San Mateo County. The City Council's appeal said that public housing is a benefit that San Jose is not required to extend. Therefore, the council said, voters should have the power to restrict the benefit.

In reply, attorneys for the welfare recipients said Article 34 had had a disastrous effect on low-income housing. From 1950 to 1969, they said, 48 per cent of the public housing units proposed on ballots across California were defeated. As a result, they said, with 8 per cent of the nation's poor, California has only 4 per cent of the low income housing units.

San Jose's appeal said similar legislation exists in Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Texas, and Virginia. In California, federally owned public housing, housing for public employees and housing for college students were exempted from the amendment's requirement of voter approval.

Tourist Centers Said Worth While

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Saturday that tourists receive an "important impression" of Arkansas from facilities such as the new Tourist Information Center near Dora.

Hammerschmidt spoke at the dedication ceremonies for the new center.

Attending the ceremonies were C. E. Tudor, a member of the Arkansas Parks, Recreation and Travel Commission; J. C. Patterson, a state Highway Commission member and R. G. Cooper, executive director of the Arkansas Parks Commission.

U.S. Envoy Kidnaped in Jordan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — A ranking diplomat in the U.S. Embassy in Amman Jordan, disappeared Sunday night on his way to a dinner party in Amman and U.S. officials assume he was seized and is being held by the Pefayeen, the Palestinian Arab commandos.

The missing embassy official was identified as Morris Draper, 42, a native of California who joined the State Department in 1947 and has had a series of assignments in the Middle East over the past 13 years.

The acting head of the embassy and deputy chief of mission, Harry I. Odell, has reported to the State Department there is some indication from the Jordanian government that the apparently kidnapped diplomat may be released soon.

Authorities in Washington provided basic facts about the incident but the State Department declined any kind of official disclosure comment for the time being.

Draper was assigned to Amman in 1968 and is head of the political section of the embassy there. He speaks French and Arabic. He is a graduate of the University of Southern California.

20,000 March for War in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — About 20,000 persons, the bulk of them construction workers, marched 3½ miles Sunday in a demonstration of support for the Nixon administration's policy in Southeast Asia.

Several fights broke out between the marchers and anti-war onlookers.

The marchers, who walked 12 to 15 abreast, carried signs with such mottoes as "Help Keep Communists Out of College," "We the Silent Majority Are Not Dead" and "Back Your Country."

CIA Using Foreign Aid Fund in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency uses the U.S. foreign aid program as a cover for its operations in Laos, admits U.S. foreign aid chief John A. Hannah.

"Certainly, our preference is to get rid of this kind of operation," Hannah said Sunday, adding that Laos is the only place where the program is used in such a way.

10,000 Troops From Thailand Hired by Funds From U.S.A.

By KENNETH J. FREED

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A

Senate subcommittee has released testimony disclosing a secret money-for-troops agreement between the United States and Thailand under which Bangkok sent 10,000 men to Vietnam in exchange for $200 million.

The pact, according to an extensively censored summary of hearings seven months ago, was signed on the ambassadorial level Nov. 9, 1967.

Although existence of the accord was denied at the time, Thailand announced Nov. 14, 1967, it was meeting a Saigon request and sending a division of volunteers to fight in South Vietnam.

Missouri Democrat Stuart Symington, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee that held the hearings, coupled disclosure of the agreement Sunday with a letter to Secretary of State William P. Rogers asking for details of American aid to Thailand in exchange for sending troops to Cambodia as well as to South Vietnam.

The testimony during a week of closed hearings last November indicated the United States would cover the cost of training, equipping and overseas allowances for a Thai division in South Vietnam. This included providing logistic support and mustering-out bonus for the soldiers.

Besides such aid, the United States also agreed to send Bangkok a battery of Hawk anti-aircraft missiles and to increase the military assistance program by about $30 million during fiscal 1968 and 1969 to speed the modernization of Thailand armed forces at home.

Bangkok announced last week it was sending volunteers to Cambodia, along with other assistance, to be paid for, at least in part, by a U.S. military aid program.

Symington, contending the public has a right to know more about U.S.-Thai agreements called on Rogers for fuller disclosures—how much will it cost and which government can initiate the withdrawal of Thai forces from Cambodia.

The role of Thailand in other Southeast Asian nations, and the part played by the United States, has been a going controversy in the Senate for several years.

Published reports in late 1967 that Washington and Bangkok had reached a secret accord for exchanging money and other aid for Thai troops were denied on both sides.

Related to the troop-money exchange has been a controversy over a so-called contingency plan under which the United States has agreed to help defend Thailand from aggression.

The Nixon administration, as the previous Johnson administration had done, maintains the 1965 agreement does not extend U.S. commitments in Thailand past the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact—the basis for all U.S. involvement in the area.

Senate criticism of this agreement and the refusal of the administration to disclose details of the accord, led to passage of an amendment prohibiting the use of U.S. ground forces in Thailand and neighboring Laos.

RESCUE PILOT

the plane lifted open as Anta came into view and the crates were shoved out, two at a time, as the Hercules made six passes over the runway.

A few miles further up the canyon was Yungay, which used to be home for some 33,000 people. All that could be seen of it were the tops of four palm trees where the town square had been and a statue of Christ, with arms outstretched, which marked the hilltop cemetery.

A slide of rocks and mud two to three miles wide had hurtled clear across both banks of the Santa River at the bottom of the canyon, buried Yungay and smashed against a mountain ledge on the other side. Only about 2,500 residents of Yungay are believed to have survived.

The C130s fly twice a day, dropping supplies over the canyon then picking up survivors at the evacuation center in Chimbote. They are brought there by helicopters and vintage C47s that can just manage to land and take off at Anta.

More than half of Chimbote, a thriving industrial port of 80,000 people is gone. Its fishmeal processing plant is partly ruined. Engineers estimated it will take many months to get Peru's only steel plant there to operate again.

But the undamaged airfield has been turned into headquarters for planes and rescue teams from fourteen nations.

The air drops into Anta are part of a multimillion dollar U.S. relief effort. In addition to more than $1 million spent on the drops during the first week after the quake, the United States has pledged $10 million to help rebuild the shattered areas.

A big American Chinook helicopter was going into service between Chimbote and the Huaylas Canyon today, and a second Chinook was to arrive in Lima later in the day. Another 14 helicopters are due Thursday aboard the carrier Guam, now in the Panama Canal zone picking up 150 huge tents and as many crates of cereal and other food as can be loaded.

Two 100-bed field hospitals with medical teams also were expected later today. Many of those who survived the quake with injuries are dying as their wounds become gangrenous.

The earth's path around the sun deviates from a straight line about one inch in nine seconds of travel or one inch for every 166.5 miles.

Support War in Rally at L.R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rev. Carl McIntire, a fundamentalist preacher told a victory in Vietnam rally here Saturday that American action in Cambodia was "indisputable testimony that the enemy's ability to make war can be destroyed by our massive display of power."

McIntire, who has organized similar demonstrations, led about 1,000 marchers on the state capital in support of victory in Southeast Asia.

The demonstrators approved a resolution offered by McIntire petitioning Congress to support President Nixon with "money and moral backing" to win an immediate victory in Vietnam.

McIntire said the war could be won before the President's deadline for withdrawing 150,000 more troops from Southeast Asia. McIntire and other speakers at a rally on the Capitol steps that followed a six-block march criticized Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., for his opposition to the war. McIntire said the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was a "senator of surrender."

The Rev. M. L. Moser of Little Rock, chairman of the Arkansas March for victory, called Fulbright "the chief spokesman of the Communist party in the United States."

Petitions were circulated at the rally to place the Arkansas ballot in November a proposed constitutional amendment to permit Arkansans to vote on removing Fulbright from office.

Newsmen counted about 1,000 persons in the line of sign-carrying singing marchers. Many identified themselves as being from other states.

Among them were a handful of antiwar youths, who carried a sign quoting from Psalms, "Scatter Thy People that delight in war."

MRS. THOMAS CARL SUMMER III

A double-ring ceremony uniting Miss Ruth Alice Edwards and Thomas Carl Summer III in holy matrimony was performed at seven o'clock in the evening of May 29 in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Norris Steele officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.W. Edwards, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Summer Jr.

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with baskets of white mums, glads and stocks and lighted tapers in seven-branched candelabra. Mrs. B.C. Hyatt, organist, played a program of pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, B.W. Edwards, wore her sister's wedding dress of white re-embroidered Alençon lace over taffeta. The elbow-length veil was attached to a pearl de sole pillbox hat decorated with matching lace and seed pearls, her cascade bouquet was of white carnations and ivy.

The bride's honor attendant was her sister, Mrs. Morton Wheatley of Hampton. She wore an A-line dress of pale yellow and carried white carnations and ivy. Dressed in similar fashion was the maid of honor, Miss Lanette Arrington of Hope.

Howard Tippet of Hope served as best man. Groomsman was Larry McKee of Hope. Ushers were Steve Joe Carlton and Douglas Carlton of Bodaew.

Mrs. Edwards, mother of the bride, wore an aqua knit suit with beige accessories. Mrs. Summer, mother of the bridegroom, wore a yellow linen dress with white accessories. Each had a white carnation corsage.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the brides' parents. The serving table was centered with a silver epergne holding white mums and stocks. Miss Linda Summer poured the punch and Miss Eunice Summer served the cake.

Those from Hope who assisted in serving were Mrs. Earl O'Neal, Mrs. Jack Gardner, Misses Ginny Gardner, Judy Pettit, Pam Hoffman, Sandra Starkey, and Brenda Pindexter. Other members of the north of Tallhina, Okla.

The late Sen. Robert Kerr, of Okla., along with Johnson and members of the Oklahoma and Arkansas congressional delegations got credit for the drive, but Kerr was given the principle recognition at the ceremonies.

It was announced that an arboretum will be named for Kerr and will be located on the drive just west of the state line.

Oklahoma Gov. Dewey Bartlett said the drive "gives us a challenge to develop the kind of tourist program that will enable more citizens to enjoy this."

Lt. Gov. Maurice "Footsie" Britt was scheduled to represent Arkansas Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller but he did not appear.

Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus attended.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The long Emmy awards show on ABC Sunday night had the usual suspense of who or what won the golden trophies, the parade of celebrity presenters and two witty and beguiling hosts. It seemed to proceed without too many technical foul-ups.

While few could quibble about the programs and talent that were honored, the 22nd annual awards ceremony of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences had too many awards in too many categories — and found difficulty in filling what small space was found with any real entertainment.

The result was that we saw some very aged episodes of "Bonanza" with Italian, French and Japanese words dubbed in, and some film of sportsmen run in reverse so the golf ball popped out of the hole and divers sprang out of the water onto the board. Surely an industry that produces variety shows by the hour could have done better than that.

Bill Cosby, hosting the Hollywood end of the activities, and Dick Cavett, in New York, were funny, topical and urbane. Some technical bugs at the beginning of the show made it sound as if Cavett were having some of his monologue blipped out, but things straightened out soon.

Many of the awards had been announced in advance of the television show—news, documentaries, and technical—but there were special awards inserted, including one to the NASA men who helped bring the moon landing to American television sets, and a trustees award to network news presidents for fighting on behalf of freedom of the press.

Despite efforts, there were still far too many categories to permit the moulding of anything that resembled a television show. It was crammed full of the reading of credits—most meaningless to the viewers—the opening of envelopes and those strange speeches of gratitude which this time even included heartfelt thanks to the father and the mother of the recipient.

The Tony awards are now a sampler of Broadway. The Oscar awards have picked up some style and entertainment value. It does seem that the television program in which the talent should show a little more talent than it does.

Maybe television is just too big, with too many facets—awards Sunday night ranged from children's programs to classical music—to be fitted into a single awards program.

DEBORAH ANN BRYANT

SEARCY, Ark. — Deborah Ann Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Bryant Kammerdiener and the late Don C. Bryant, Route No. 4, Hope, Ark., has been accepted for registration at Harding College, according to Fred Alexander, director of admissions.

Bryant is a graduate of Hope High School where she participated in the Band, Choir and madrigals, Pep squad, Junior Historians and different school clubs.

At Harding she plans to major in elementary education. Harding's current enrollment is 1,780 students from 47 states and 15 foreign countries. Dr. C. L. Ganus Jr. is president.

AIRPORT EXTENSION SYDNEY (AP) — Work has started on the further extension into Botany Bay of the main runway at Sydney Airport. The runway is to be lengthened from 9,000 ft. to 13,400 ft. to enable long-haul supersonic and jumbo jets to operate economically. About 9 million tons of sand are to be dredged from the bottom of the bay to complete the project.

COCKFIGHT HAUL FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State police made one of their largest hauls in years while raiding a cockfight at nearby Versailles. They arrested and charged 110 persons, including a number of women.

Some style and entertainment value. It does seem that the television program in which the talent should show a little more talent than it does.

TAXES: HERE IS THYSTING

Dear Helen: I am a housewife with three children and a budget that never quite makes it. Huge grocery bills are bad enough, but the last straw is that little charge tacked on the end and labeled "tax"—this for soap, detergent, cleaning needs, bleach, etc. They don't tax food because it's essential to life. If cleanliness isn't essential too, then I wasn't brought up properly!

Isn't it time we women complained? — MRS. H. H. FROM A SALES TAX STATE

Dear Mrs. H.: If enough of you housewives sent letters of complaint to your Governor as well as the legislator from your district, you might get action. — H.

P.S. It has been estimated that the average American wage earner works from January 1 to May 9 just to pay his state, federal, local—and hidden—taxes!

P.P.S.: Okay, wise guys: Going to work on May 10 ISN'T the answer! — H.

Dear Helen: When I first went out with my future husband I told him a few silly things about other fellows trying to get fresh with me. He knows nothing serious ever happened.

Well, it's 25 years and three children later, and my husband STILL nags me about these fellows. Even our children get disgusted. He keeps promising he won't bring the subject up again, but he always does it's getting worse.

I am a good and true person and have never given him cause for jealousy. How can I make him forget a past that never was? — SADIE

Dear Sadie: Your husband evidently doesn't want to believe "Sadie was a lady." Whether he is feeding his jealousy or his fantasies, I don't know, but he could find out with the help of a shrink.

When he explores the real reasons for his obsession—insecurity, titillation, perhaps a little of both—he'll be on the way to a cure. — H.

Dear Helen: As you say, much of what the women's lib movement stands for is needed, but why must the groups that are open for us to join be so far out?

I don't wish to burn my bra or picket beauty contests. I wish to protest the slavery of marriage, the treatment of women as sexual objects, the archaic divorce laws which hurt men as well as women, the inequality of pay for equal jobs, and our general secondclassdom.

Isn't there a sane, sensible women's lib club that we moderate liberals could join? Something that would allow us to express our feelings and still remain married to reactionary husbands? — LIB WITHOUT LIP

Dear Lib: How about introducing a "lib study group" in to your local woman's club? Perhaps you quiet libs can teach the "lippy" ones it's better to persuade men than fight 'em. — H.

Dear Helen: With all the ruckus against the mid-calf skirt, why are the designers STILL pushing them? Their fall showings are filled with minis, while stores and streets are filled with minis. Isn't this going to hurt sales? What woman in her right senses will buy a new dress when she figures it may be out of style by fall? Why can't we choose our own length (which for me is at the top of the knee), with everything from mini to maxi to choose from? — DISGUSTED

Dear Dis: Why indeed? And we could if women weren't sheep! — H.

Pinch hitters who deliver? A good trick, yet there's nothing awfully special about that. But pinch hitters who deliver while swinging for other pinch hitters? Now there's a gimmick.

Rigney pulled that one off twice Sunday and the double strategy coup moved Minnesota to a 10-9 victory over Washington in 11 innings.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore trimmed Milwaukee 7-6, Chicago edged New York 4-1 in 12 innings, Cleveland downed California 6-4, Oakland dropped Detroit 5-2 and Boston swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 7-4 and 5-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh topped Los Angeles 3-1, Chicago rapped San Francisco 8-4, Cincinnati tagged New York 10-2, Montreal bombed Atlanta 10-1, St. Louis overcame San Diego 10-7 and Philadelphia belted Houston 10-3.

The Twins and Senators were tied at 3-3 in the sixth inning when Rigney started spinning some magic. Minnesota had the bases loaded and Bob Allison, a right-handed pinch hitter, swinging against lefty George Brunet.

Washington Manager Ted Williams called in righty Dick Bosman and Rigney countered with left-handed Rich Reese to swing for Allison. Reese, the pinch hitter for the pinch hitter, naturally cracked a grand slam homer.

The Senators pecked away at the lead and finally tied the score in the ninth. Two innings later, three straight singles by Leo Cardenas, Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva had put Minnesota in front at 8-7. Again Rigney used a pinch hitter for a pinch hitter to counter a pitching change and Charley Manuel delivered a single to keep the rally going. Jim Holt followed with a two-run single.

Minnesota needed the insurance when Frank Howard doubled to lead two runs across in the bottom of the 11th. But the rally fell short and Rigney, his outfielder intact, slipped out of town.

Detroit fell victim to some day, managerial magic too, bowing Oakland when the A's skipper John McNamara, sent up the right man in the pinch.

Oakland was trailing 2-1 going into the ninth but Frank Fernandez' leadoff homer tied the game against Mickey Lolich. Rick Monday walked and then Al Kaline booted Dick Green's attempted sacrifice, giving the A's two and none out.

McNamara went to his bench and pinch hitter Joe Rudi settled matters with a three-run homer.

Baltimore used home runs by Frank Robinson, Boog Powell and Merv Rettenmund to beat Milwaukee. Eddie Watt bailed Mike Cuellar out of an eighth inning jam after Phil Roof's three-run pinch homer had pulled the Brewers to within a run.

Robinson and Powell powered consecutive shots in the fourth wiping out an early Milwaukee lead.

Tom McCraw, who had tagged a two-run homer earlier, doubled in the 12th inning and came on to score Chicago's winning run against New York as the White Sox ended a five-game Yankee winning streak.

Bobby Knoop followed McCraw's hit with an infield single

Expos, Reds, Cardinals Winners

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Gene Mauch, the thinking man's manager, called a clubhouse meeting Friday night, his Montreal Expos weren't contemplating much of anything except maybe suicide.

The Expos had lost 11 straight games when they sneaked into Atlanta to begin a three-game series with the red-hot Braves.

When the Expos skipped town Sunday, following a 10-1 rout for a series sweep, it was the five teams trailing the runaway Cincinnati Reds in the National League West who were left for dead.

The Reds poured it on the New York Mets 10-2 and opened a nine-game bulge over Atlanta. Los Angeles, beaten by Pittsburgh 3-1, is 9½ games back. In other NL action, the Chicago Cubs slugged San Francisco 8-4, St. Louis rallied to beat San Diego 10-7 and Philadelphia drubbed Houston 10-3.

In the American League, Baltimore edged Milwaukee 7-6, the Chicago White Sox nipped the New York Yankees 4-3 in 12 innings, Minnesota outlasted Washington 10-9 in 11, Cleveland downed California 6-4, Oakland clubbed Detroit 5-2 and Boston swept a doubleheader from Kansas City 7-4 and 5-2.

"We expected to be splattered on the wall," said pitcher Carl Morton of Mauch's get-together, perhaps remembering the manager's famous spare rib-barbecue sauce performance in Houston while his Philadelphia Phillies were in the process of blowing the 1964 flag.

"But Gene just talked baseball to us," Morton continued. "He told us to play aggressively and that we could win if we thought we could win, but that we would keep losing if we thought we would lose. He relaxed the whole team. You could tell the difference as soon as we left the clubhouse."

Bob Bailey socked two homers and Coco Laboy one as the Expos lashed out 15 hits in support of Morton's 10-hit pitching. The Braves' only run was unearned as the rookie right-hander boosted his record to 5-3.

Morton, an ex-outfielder in the Braves' farm system, helped his own cause with two singles.

Not only did the Expos batter the Atlanta pitching for 25 runs and 33 hits in the series, but their own hurlers limited Rico Carter to two hits in 11 trips, dropping his average to .420.

Cincinnati rookie Wayne Simpson breezed to his eighth victory in nine decisions as John Bench drilled a three-run homer, Lee May a solo shot and Tony Perez a two-run triple. The Mets lost their fifth straight game and slid to fourth place in the NL East.

The Cubs clouted five home runs to beat the Giants and maintain their four-game lead over Pittsburgh in the East Division. Billy Williams snapped a 4-4 tie with a seventh-inning single and Jim Hickman followed with a homer. Johnny Callison, Williams and Jackie Hiatt all homered for the Cubs in the fourth and Cleo James hit one out in the eighth.

Willie Mays, Dick Dietz and Alan Gallagher connected for the Giants.

The Pirates turned back the Dodgers on little Freddie Patek's two-run triple in the fifth and big Bob Veale's four-hit pitching. Patek's triple broke a scoreless tie and followed a single by Bob Robertson and Manny Sanguillen's double. Patek later scored on a single by Matly Aloi.

The Cardinals climbed past the Mets into third place with a seven-run explosion in the seventh inning. Trailing 7-1, the Cards got two in the sixth on Ted Simmons' first major league homer.

Vic Davallio began the big seventh with a pinch single and Lou Brock and Jose Cardenal also singled for the first run. After Richie Allen walked, Joe Torre doubled and Simmons singled home the tying run. With two out, Leron Lee stroked a two-run pinch double and Davallio closed out the inning with a run-scoring single.

Byron Browne belted a homer and a two-run triple and Deron Johnson crashed a three-run homer as the Phils handed Houston's Larry Dierker, on a weekend pass from Army duty, his fourth consecutive loss.

France and Australia Enter Yachts

By PETER BREWER
Associated Press Writer

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — It's the world's oldest and most famous sailing prize—the American's Cup, Holy Grail of yachtsmen.

For more than a century this ornate, bottomless silver mug has lured rich gentlemen and gifted sailors to bring their country's finest racing yachts to Yankee shores.

All have failed to win it. But this year may be different. For the first time two nations have entered challenges—France and Australia.

This is the third try in eight years for the Aussies, with Sydney newspaper owner Sir Frank Packer heading a syndicate bringing the all-new Gretel II, whose designer, Alan Payne, says "I think we have a chance."

The French group, led by Baron Marcel Bich, the ballpoint pen tycoon, is also bringing a new boat named France. The group indicates it is ready to spend and spend in the contest where only the very wealthy need apply. "We have prepared ourselves the best way we know how," says Bich's son, Bruno.

After long drills and tuneups, these two boats and their crews will begin in mid-August the crucial final trials to determine which will be the challenger.

There would have been two more challengers, but groups in Great Britain and Greece bailed out. They had jumped in with challenges in 1967 after Australia's Dame Pattie was trounced in four straight races by the defender, Intrepid.

There are also three groups of Americans jockeying for the right to defend the historic mug—two new boats plus an Intrepid so greatly revised and edited as to be considered a new one.

The one watched closest is Valiant, designed by Olin Stephens, who has been in on the plans for every America's Cup defender but one since 1937.

Syndicate head Robert W. McCullough of Riverside, Conn., has signed up at least nine veterans of the 1967 Cup campaign, as crew—and he will be her helmsman.

The other new one is Heritage, from Charlie Morgan of St. Petersburg, Fla. He designed her, completed model tests, built her in his own boatyard, made the sails himself—and now is also going to skipper her in the trials.

The Intrepid group, with the boat that left Australia's best far behind in 1967, made drastic alterations to the hull, plus a new deck layout and lighter gear. Bill Ficker of Newport Beach, Calif., former World Star Class champion, will be her skipper.

America's Cup competition is in match races, two 12-meters fighting it out over a 24.3-mile triangular course with three tacking legs. It's a best-of-seven race series.

The preliminary trials begin today on Long Island Sound, but these are just four days of shakedown runs and tryouts with a chance to spy on what the rival

Battle Royal Here Tuesday Night

File Protest in 1 of 3 Auto Races

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

There were three nip-and-tuck auto racing battles around the circuits Sunday, but one of them may be undecided for several days due to a driver protest of the finish.

Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico stayed just ahead of favored Chris Amon of New Zealand for the last 23 laps to win the Belgian Grand Prix by one second in a BRM at Francorchamps, Belgium.

At Mansfield, Ohio, Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., finished in his Mustang one-half second ahead of teammate George Follmer of Arcadia, Calif., for his third victory in four Trans-American Sedan Championship Series races this season.

But at Cambridge Junction, Mich., Cale Yarborough's one-tenth of a second win over Pete Hamilton in the Motor State 400 stock car race brought a protest from at least five drivers.

Some claimed Yarborough took advantage of a yellow caution flag to unfairly gain one lap on his opponents.

Meanwhile, in the Rex Mays 150-mile Indy-type championship race at Milwaukee, Wis., 1970 Indianapolis 500 winner Al Unser finished third behind Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., and Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz.

John Cannon of St. Louis and his McLaren Formula A racer averaged 103.8 miles per hour to win the $25,000 L & M Continental Championship series at Seattle International Raceway. Cannon led from start to finish to take the $5,800 first prize.

Yarborough's questionmark win in the $72,000 Michigan race was his first major one since he captured the same event—but 100 miles longer—last year. He would win $14,550 if officially named the winner of the 200-lap event at the $6 million Michigan International Speedway.

Rodriguez was only the sixth fastest driver in Belgium's Grand Prix trials, but he grabbed the lead from Amon on the fifth lap of the championship in the 245-mile, 28 lap event and clung tenaciously the rest of the way.

Jones led most of his race after surviving an early challenge from Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., who was third. The winner's average speed for the 75 laps was 83.118 MPH over a twisting 2.4-mile course.

The Rex Mays victory was only the second for Leonard on the United States Auto Club circuit. His other win was back in 1965 in a 150-mile race at the Wisconsin State Fairgrounds track, also in Milwaukee.

Softball Girls Sign Up June 9

All girls, ages 9-15, who want to play softball this summer must sign up Tuesday, June 9, at K-Park, anytime between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Hope wrestling fans will see one of the most exciting events ever held at the Fair Park Coliseum Tuesday night, June 8, 8:30.

The feature event will see for the first time a sevenman Russian style battle royal, which means, in order to be eliminated each wrestler must be tossed bodily over the top rope and on to the floor. The contestants entered in this event are:

250-pound Scandar Akbar; 325 pound Ox Baker; Cowboy Bruce Kirk; Ronnie Paul; Crazy Chuck Karbo; and Japan's Mr. Eto and Mr. Ota. The final winner of this battle royal will receive an added purse of $700.

There will be four bouts in all Tuesday night.

Advance tickets are on sale now at the Town and restaurant in Hope.

Dick Lotz Wins Kemper Open Tourney

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Winning, says Dick Lotz, begins winning.
"It was awfully important to me, winning at Alameda," he said. "I started getting paired with tour winners and I could see what they did, how they did it, and convinced myself I could play as well as they did."
"Then at Monsanto, well, that gave me confidence."
"It gave me the winning attitude."
The 27-year-old Lotz, a pleasant, thoughtful, soft-spoken young Californian, was a virtual unknown until he won the $150,000 Monsanto Open golf tournament two months ago.
He added the title in the Kemper Open to that crown Sunday, became only the third double winner on the pro golf tour this year and vaulted into second place on the money winning list at almost $106,000.
He came from one stroke off the pace with a one-under-par 71 for 278, 10 under par on the 7,231-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course, and overhauled faltering Lou Graham, the leader through the second and third rounds.
"I just donated it," said Graham, who struggled home with a 74 for 280. He was tied at that figure, two strokes off the pace, with Tom Weiskopf, who had a sparkling 66, and Larry Hinson and Grier Jones, who had 72.
Dan Sikes, 70, Bob Lunn, 71, Steve Reid, 73, and Lionel Hebert, 74, were tied at 281. Rod Funseth, 70, was alone at 282 and Arnold Palmer, who had a final 71, topped the group at 283.
"I didn't think a 71 would do it," said Lotz, now in his seventh year on the tour. "I'm just glad nobody behind me shot a really hot round."
They didn't. The grinding pressure of the chase for $30,000 took its toll—even on Lotz a little.
He went in front to stay with a

55-foot monster putt on the 11th hole, then three-putted the 13th. But he bounced back with a 12-foot birdie putt on the 14th, then bogeyed the 16th from a trap.
"I guess I was choking a little," he said. But Graham also bogeyed and the lead remained at two strokes. Lotz parred in. He had moved into a share of the lead with a 15-foot birdie putt on the ninth hole.
Lotz said he had started the year with an ambition—to win a major tournament (the Alameda was a satellite event.)
"When I won at Monsanto I told me wife, 'Well, I've won my tournament. What now?' I guess I'll have to win another one."

He has.
What now?

Hope Auto Beats CBC by 14-5

Friday night at K Park Hope Auto beat CBC in the first game 14-5. Hope Auto led after the first inning 4-1 and the same score was held through the second. Hope Auto's Artis Perry started a hitting rally in the 3rd with a standing double and the next seven batters got clean hits. Monts and Buller each scored a run in the 3rd for CBC and after 3 innings of play the score was H.A. 12-CBC-3. The game ended after 4 innings. The winning pitcher was Doug Allen, Bryan Cox was the loser.
Sheriffs Dept. and Lions Club stayed tied 0-0 for 3 innings in the second game. Then, the first seven Sheriff batters in the 4th got hits, 5 of them coming in to score. Lions only run came in the 6th by Darren Sanders and the game ended after six, 5-1. Walton was the winning pitcher, Bilbo was the loser.
In the last game James Mtr. Co. was defeated by Barry's by a score of 14-1. James Motor's batters just couldn't meet the ball and it's all Barry's could do. Barry's Clifford Coleman and Curtis East knocked a home run each, while James' only score came on a home run, aided by errors, by Foy Massengill. The game went 6 full innings. Curtis East was the winning pitcher, the loser was David Cobb.

1st National Squeezes by Citizens 3-2

In the first of two games Friday night First National squeezed by Citizens 3-2 and Later Anderson-Frazier defeated Jaycees 6-3.
Paul Young led off for First National with a triple and scored on Jay Barentine's single. The other two runs came on walks in the 4th inning.
Citizens runs came in the with 2 walks and a couple of singles. David Bilbo took the win while Donny Hughes was charged with the loss.
In the second game Anderson-Frazier started out with three singles for two runs and were never behind again. After a freak accident injuring Jaycee pitcher Wade Harris the losing team never could get going.
Anderson-Frazier had a 6 to 1 lead before the Jaycees scored 2 runs in the last inning. Relief pitcher Ricky Clark and center fielder Ricky Brown led Jaycees with Buddy Ingram and Mike Newton leading the winners.
The next scheduled games are today with Blevins Meeting Jaycees and Merchants challenging First National.

Joe Leonard Winner at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Californian Joe Leonard splashed through the unintended water hazard at the State Fair Park race track Sunday to beat Roger McCluskey in the Rex Mays 150-mile classic for Indy-type cars.
The race turned into a two-way duel between Leonard and McCluskey as spinouts and otherwise expert engine problems hoisted the caution flag for a total 26 laps.
Leonard, of San Jose, Calif., said there was difficulty maintaining traction in one of the turns on the paved mile oval because of water.
He averaged 108.3 miles and hour Sunday in a turbocharged Ford, owned by Parnelli Jones and Associates of Torrance, Calif., and won $15,478.

High Echelon Wins the Belmont

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Trainer John Jacobs lost his ace for the Belmont Stakes, but he still had a trump card and John L. Rotz played it perfectly.

The ace—Personality—missed Saturday's Belmont because of a cough, but the trump card—High Echelon—won the pot from nine rivals for Jacobs and his mother, Ethel, who owns the two colts.
"I lost my ace but had a lot of faith in High Echelon," Jacobs said after High Echelon vindicated that faith by beating Thomas F. Fleming's Needles N Pens by three-quarters of a length after a perfect ride by Rotz.

High Echelon, winless in nine previous starts, not only picked up the winning knack from his Preakness-winning stablemate, he also apparently contracted Personality's ailment.
Personally, who followed his Wood Memorial victory with a disappointing eighth in the Kentucky Derby but then won the Preakness and Jersey Derby, developed a nasal discharge Wednesday and then a cough Thursday night. Jacobs entered him in the Belmont Friday morning, then declared him out later in the day.

High Echelon showed no signs of a cold until Sunday when Jacobs said he noticed a slight nasal discharge and added, "this is the way Personality started."
Jacobs said he plans to rest both halves of his 1-2 punch, pointing them for the Monmouth Invitational Aug. 8.

Even before Personality was withdrawn from the Belmont, some observers felt the 1½ miles of the Belmont would favor the late-closing High Echelon who finished third in the 1¼-mile Kentucky Derby and fourth in each of the 1 3-16-mile Preakness and the 1¼-mile Jersey Derby.

In winning the $158,750 Belmont, timed in 2:34 over a sloppy track, High Echelon charged through the middle of the stretch to pass Brookmeade Stable's, pace-setting Climber, and Her-Jac Stable's Naskra inside the eighth pole and then with-stand Needles N Pens.

Needles N Pens saved the black by a neck over Naskra, who was a head to the good of Climber.

Raymond M. Curtis' My Dad George, second in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness and the Belmont favorite after Personality's withdrawal was fifth in the field of 10 3-year-olds.

High Echelon paid a winning utuel of $11 and picked up first money of $115,000 in taking the first Belmont run without the Derby and Preakness winners since 1954. Derby winner Dust Commander came up with a sore ankle after his ninth-place Preakness finish and was not entered in the Belmont.

Frank McMahon's 5-year-old Baffle, ridden by Jerry Lambert, won the $54,150 Inglewood Handicap by a neck over Pleasure Seeker, with T.V. Commercial third, at Hollywood Park and earned a berth in the $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup.

James Cox Brady's Jungle Cove carried top weight of 116 pounds, including Larry Adams, over about 1¼ miles on the grass for a head victory over Chomption in the $39,000 Custer Memorial Handicap at Suffolk Downs. War Censor was third.

In other national features, Mr. Leader, $6.40, won the $29,875 Oceanport Handicap at Monmouth Park; Brazen Brother, $7.60, scored in the $28,775 Dragon Stakes at Liberty Bell ark; Pattee Canyon, $3.40, took the Twilight Tear Handicap at Ar-toyle titlist, started in fifth place, dropped to sixth and eventually took the lead from McCluskey in the 140th lap.

Leonard pulled away in the final 10 laps. Al Unser, who won the Indianapolis 500 for Parnelli Jones and Associates, was third behind McCluskey.

Lloyd Ruby was fourth, Mario Andretti fifth and Bobby Unser sixth.

Andretti had the pole position, but lost the lead to Al Unser early in the race. A. J. Foyt, the No. 2 qualifier, broke a cam and bowed out in the 25th lap.

Foyt's engine trouble produced an oil slick that caused No. 4 qualifier Gordon Johncock to spin out.

Art Pollard spun out in the 10th lap, and other spinouts followed for a variety of reasons.

lington Park.
Easily Best, $12.40, and Admiral's Shield, $20.40, won divisions, each worth a gross of $24,057, of the Kent Stakes on the grass at Delaware Park, and Windy Mama, $18.80, took the $20,000-added San Juan Bautista Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.

Hyndman Misses in Scotland

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Associated Press Writer
NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland (AP) — Twelve-year-old Timothy Horgan screwed up his face in thought and said he wondered how far away was Carnoustie in Scotland and how much it cost to get there.
"I sure would like to see Mr. Hyndman again," the bright-eyed son of a Northern Ireland policeman said.
This was after he had choked back some tears over his adopted hero.

Billy Hyndman of Philadelphia lost the British Amateur Golf Championship to England's Michael Bonallack, 8 and 7 in a 36-hole final over the Royal County Down links Saturday. But he certainly won a friend.

"Even though I lost, and that for the second time running, those galleries were so kind to me that I intend to come back next year to play the amateur at Carnoustie," said Hyndman before he flew home.

"But Timothy was my personal gallery," he explained.

"When I played my first practice round and shot 69, Timothy walked around with me. Even though he's only 12, he knows a lot about golf—where to stand, and when it was either a good shot or a lucky one.

"He wasn't my caddy, he was just my friend."

"You know, Timothy walked every hole with me for six long days, and that was about 148

Englehorn Wins Lady Carling

LUTHERVILLE, Md. (AP)—Shirley Englehorn, of Caldwell, Idaho, took a one-stroke victory over Carol Mann, of Towson, Md. Sunday in the Lady Carling Open at the Pine Ridge Golf Course. She collected a purse of $3,375.

Miss Englehorn, who won the last two tournaments she played, toured the front nine in 35 with team at St. Andrews and then certainly in the amateur at Carnoustie next summer."

Mrs. King Only U.S. Winner

PARIS (AP) — Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., is the only American to get her name on the championship rolls of this year's French Open Tennis Tournament—and she needed foreign help to get it there.

Mrs. King teamed with Bob Hewitt of South Africa to win the mixed doubles from Francois Durr and Jean-Claude Barclay of France 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

The United States suffered disappointments in all other classes.

Margaret Court of Australia won the women's single's title Sunday by defeating Helga Niessen of Germany 6-2, 6-4. Mrs. Court already had won the Australian title and could complete a grand slam by taking the Wimbledon and U.S. championships, something only the two birdies, and finished with a two-under-par 71. Miss Mann was one under par with two birds and a bogey.

The top two finalists were tied at 139 when they began the final round, way ahead of the others who concentrated on nailing third.

Both birdied the first par five hole, and a trap on the third hole snared each of them. Miss Englehorn, however, blasted out of the sand and holed an eight-footer for a birdie.

The winner also saved a par at the 160-yard eighth with a pressure ten-footer after missing the green and chipping down from the right trap.

Kathy Whitworth was a distant third at 217, seven shots behind the winner.

Miss Englehorn now has a chance to tie the Ladies Professional Golf Association record of four straight victories in the LPGA championship next week in Sutton, Mass.

late Maureen Connolly of the United States accomplished, in 1952.

In another championship match Sunday, Ion Tiriac and Nicu Nastase of Romania won the men's doubles by topping Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico 6-2, 6-3.

Soccer Play at Midway in Mexico City

By JOHN JACKSON
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The ninth World Cup Soccer championships have reached the halfway stage with only Peru and West Germany definitely set for the quarter-finals.

At the other end of the scale, with 16 of the scheduled 32 matches played, Bulgaria, Morocco and El Salvador have been eliminated although each has one remaining match.

And in the unofficial battle between Europe and South America, the Latins are way ahead with Mexico, Brazil and Uruguay leading their groups and Peru even with West Germany in the remaining group.

Each of the 16 competing nations have now played two games but only three—Brazil, Peru and West Germany—have collected the maximum four points.

With three points are Mexico and Russia in Group One; Uruguay and Italy in Group Two. In Group Three, reigning champion England and Rumania trail Brazil with two points each.

Belgium has two points in Group One, Sweden and Israel one apiece in Group Two, while the four countries yet to get a point are Czechoslovakia, El Salvador, Bulgaria and Morocco.

The final eight round-robin games in the four separate groups will be played Wednesday and Thursday.

So You Want To Be

By ERNIE HOOD

Some folks say that the cowpuncher really doesn't exist any more. But men who do the cowboy's work are still around, although they may "go under a new handle" - ranch hand, manager, feed lot technician, etc.

Admittedly many of their duties have died with the Old West, like taking a big herd from Texas to Dodge City or fixing fences.

Most of them drive trucks now, but the ability to break a horse is still a handy thing for an aspiring cowboy because, as the Labor Department's Occupational Outlook Quarterly notes, not all of the old skills are confined exclusively to the rodeo arena.

Joyce Kling of the Bureau of Labor Statistics puts the facts together as follows: Today, trail drives are short, usually from range to pasture to loading platform. Most of the land is fenced (though not all); consequently, the roundup is considerably less complicated than it once was.

As a result of these changes, as well as technological innovations, such as scientific feeding methods and increased use of motorized vehicles, cattle are raised much differently today.

Ranching operations are basically of three types. • The commercial beef ranch deals primarily with cow herds and their calves and yearlings. The calves are born or "dropped" in the spring and, either in the fall when they are weaned or the following spring as yearlings, they are sold and shipped to a feed lot, the second type of operation.

• A feed lot is often quite small - about five or six acres - though sometimes it can be considerably larger. Most feed lots handle about 1,000 to 30,000 head of cattle at a time. The cattle are kept enclosed and are carefully and constantly fed, usually on grain, until they are fat enough for market. Some ranches combine feed lot and range operations.

• A third type of ranching operation - commonly known as a "registered outfit" - raises cattle for breeding purposes. On these ranches, the sire and dam of each calf are recorded - that is, the blood lines are carefully traced. Each animal is then registered with the appropriate cattle organization. Animals from such ranches are sold or rented to range operators to upgrade the quality of their stock.

Basically, the work of today's cowboy involves raising and caring for a herd of cattle until it is ready for either market or breeding. Although no two ranches are alike, on a hypothetical beef-raising ranch the cowboy's work is defined largely by the seasons of the year.

One of the heaviest workloads comes a calf-roundup time in the spring. The new calves must be rounded up, vaccinated, branded and dehorned. The bull calves must be castrated, after which they are known as steers.

The branded calves are turned back out to pasture, and summer work begins. Fence-mending, general repair work, occasional veterinary chores, checks on irrigation lines might all be a part of the cowboy's daily routine.

Haying time is another busy period of year, especially in northern areas. The raking and stacking or baling is heavy, hard work, though mechanical devices may lighten it on many ranches.

Sometime early in the summer, the bulls are put out with the cow herds. About a month later, dry cows (cows which have not calved) may be gathered and shipped. Sometime in September, riders go through the herds and look for cows with poor quality calves and mark the cows for shipment.

Fall roundup time comes in October and in some areas even earlier. At that time, any unbranded calves are branded and otherwise treated. Calves are then taken from their mothers and sorted into two groups - steers and heifers (females).

Jim: "There are certain plays that have been written up in books and articles for many years. When one of them comes up the experts all know them. Do our readers?"

Oswald: "Some do, there is no reason why everyone shouldn't know some of the more common ones."

Jim: "One type involves leaving one enemy trump out while you play a side suit. Today's hand is a classic example of this type play."

Oswald: "The bidding is rather interesting. North bids one no-trump instead of two spades because of his very balanced distribution. Then, after South jumps in hearts, North reveals his hand and jumps to four spades. He would like his partner to move to a slam with a slightly better hand."

Jim: "The play for four spades is automatic. South has 10 top tricks the moment both opponents follow to the first trump lead. He might as well take the best play for 11. In duplicate those extra tricks are most important. Even in rubber bridge they mean something."

Oswald: "He will make his 11 tricks if hearts break 3-3, but he has a play for 11 against a bad heart break that won't jeopardize his contract."

Jim: "After both opponents follow to the second trump lead South should start on the heart suit. If the second or third heart is ruffed he will be able to use dummy's last trump to ruff his last heart. If both opponents follow to the third heart, he draws the last trump and has his 11 tricks. As it is, East is long in both hearts and spades so South gets to ruff his fourth heart and make his extra trick."

THE WELL CHILD® Medicinal Iron Vital To Growth of Infant

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Infants whose birth weight is normal must be given 1 milligram of iron per kilogram of body weight every day beginning at the age of three months. The daily dosage should not, however, exceed 15 milligrams. Infants with a low birth weight and those with a low hemoglobin level have a special need for iron, the one essential element not found in milk. When such infants are 6 to 8 weeks old they should be given 1.5 to 2 milligrams of iron daily, only part of which will be available in even an iron-enriched diet. The rest must be given as medicinal iron and should be continued for five or six weeks after the normal hemoglobin level is reached.

Iron-fortified baby cereals and prepared milk formulas with added iron are generally available but often are not given to those infants who need them most to prevent iron deficiency anemia. In most cases the need for supplemental iron disappears by the time the infant is 18 months old.

Needles and Loopholes

In the Gospel according to St. Matthew, Jesus tells his disciples "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

But if contributions to one's church are part of the admission fee, individuals with the largest incomes have the best chance of getting there. A man with an income of $25,000 a year who gives $5,000 to a church or charitable organization actually pays only $1,760 in actual cash — or only one-third of the amount given. The rest comes from the government as an income tax deduction.

But if your income is a poverty-level $3,000 a year and you give $600 to your church and take it off your income, it costs you $442 in actual cash — or more than two-thirds of the amount given.

There are other ways by which persons of wealth make large contributions to religious and charitable organizations at small cost to themselves. Instead of giving cash, they may give stocks or art objects which have appreciated in value and upon which they would have to pay heavy capital gains taxes if disposed of in any other way.

In the last two thousand years, camels have learned nothing about squeezing through a needle's eye; but they don't have access to tax consultants who are capable of enlarging small apertures into large loopholes. — Huntington (W.Va.) Herald-Dispatch and Advertiser

7 Die on State Roads Week-End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seven deaths were recorded on Arkansas' highways this weekend. Six of the accidents, two double fatalities occurred Saturday. One of the accidents was Sunday.

State Police said John R. Willen, 29, of Mineral Wells, Tex., was killed Sunday night as he walked along U.S. 67 near Prescott. Officials said Willen walked into the flow of traffic and was struck by a car driven by Army Spec. 4 David L. Biddle, 35, of Dallas, Tex.

Officials said Ann Brown, 16, of Pine Bluff was killed Saturday night in a one-car accident on a county road near Pine Bluff. She was a passenger in a car driven by Webster Smith Jr., 17, of Pine Bluff.

James Moore, 81, of Wynne and Verle Hall, 68, of Wynne were killed Saturday when Moore attempted to make a turn in his pickup truck and drove into the path of an oncoming car near Wynne.

In the other double fatality, Thomas Sarringar, 23, of Sarringar of near Judsonia and Steve Trice, 16, of Searcy, were killed when Sarringar lost control of his car on Arkansas 36, near Rosebud (White County).

Officials said an Alma man, Marion Glenn, 25, was killed Saturday when his car crashed and burned at Fort Chaffee during a high-speed chase with military police.

A spokesman said Glenn, a civilian, had been stopped by Army officials for traffic violations at the base and sped away.

'Hair' Not to Be Shown at L.R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The folk rock production "Hair" will not be brought to Little Rock during the 1970-71 season. Philip G. Back of Little Rock, who operates Superior Attractions, says he does not plan to bring the production to Little Rock following reaction obtained in a recent poll.

Back said "Hair" ran eighth in his poll and prompted letters from church leaders protesting the show.

He said about 60 college students had written him requesting that the production be brought to Little Rock.

Switch in Cabinet Gets Dem. Praise

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says Elliot Richardson will have no trouble being confirmed as President Nixon's secretary of Health, Education and Welfare—and he has praised the switch that is sending Robert H. Finch to the White House high command.

"I'm very happy that a real pro is going to be in the White House very close to the President," Mansfield said after Nixon announced Finch is leaving HEW to become a counselor to the President.

To head that vast and troubled agency, save for the pentagon the biggest in government, Nixon chose Richardson, undersecretary of State and a man with a reputation as a top administrator.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said Finch would tremendously strengthen the White House staff "and open new channels of communication and cooperation between the President, the Congress and the country."

Javits said Richardson "is a splendid public servant and should be able to head this vital, complex department admirably well."

Richardson, 49, is a former lieutenant governor and attorney general of Massachusetts. He served as an assistant HEW secretary during the Eisenhower administration and was named the top State Department official under Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

"Richardson is an excellent choice for HEW, but a loss to the State Department," Mansfield said.

He said he foresaw no controversy over confirmation. "I can't see them raising any objection to a man who had done a good job at State and has been a good right hand for Rogers there," Mansfield said.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said Richardson's appointment "assures a continuation of dynamic leadership of the highest competence. I believe in Elliot Richardson. He will do a fine job."

One Senate dissenter to the administration move—Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said Finch had been demoted.

"I hate to see Bob Finch go, to be demoted this way," said

U.S. Headache Pill Business Running 400 Million a Year

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Civilization seems to be harder on women than on men. At least they suffer headaches twice as often. Incidentally, the U.S. Public Health Service estimates that we now pay more than $400 million a year for headache remedies.

It takes a heap of atoms to make you what you are. Just how small is an atom? Well, it takes a million billion of them just to make a speck big enough to see.

Taking the little woman for a night out was a much bigger problem for old-time Indian princes than it is for the average American husband. On an overnight visit to a neighboring nabob, some of the princes customarily brought along as many as 200 wives and concubines to give them an outing away from the chafing confines of their harem routine.

Dogs have been domesticated for at least 5,000 years. One theory is that before this happened dogs never barked. Like many theories, it is difficult to prove to be false or true.

Total of 115 Accidents Here

Hope Police Chief Alvin Willis reported the following violations for the weekend: 9 cases of drunkenness, 3 driving while intoxicated, 8 traffic violations, 1 carrying concealed weapon and 1 failure to answer a summons.

This brings the total for the year to 115 accidents and 15 injuries.

Israeli Planes Hit Suez 8th Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israeli warplanes pounded Egyptian positions along the Suez Canal for the eighth straight day Sunday and also hit suspected guerrilla bases in southern Lebanon. Meanwhile, fighting erupted between Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian troops in Jordan.

All Israeli planes returned safely from the air raids, according to the Israelis, although a Cairo spokesman claimed Egyptian anti-aircraft fire downed an Israeli Skyhawk.

It was the third straight day of almost incessant bombing along the canal in line with Israel's new policy of "continuous military activity" against Egypt.

The raids against suspected guerrilla hideouts along the slopes of Mt. Hermon in Lebanon were in retaliation for two days of commando attacks, on the border town of Kiyat Shmouna, a Tel Aviv spokesman said.

In the Jordanian town of Zerk, a pitched battle broke out between Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian troops and then spread to Amman, the capital, 10 miles to the south. Today both areas were reported quiet.

Al Fatah, the largest guerrilla organization, said nine Palestinians and 10 Jordanians were killed, and 27 combatants were wounded. Informed Palestinian sources said the figure was "exaggerated by at least 50 per cent."

The sources said the clashes were provoked by members of the small ultra-leftist Popular Democratic Front who tried to extract contributions for their war chest from Jordanian soldiers.

In a similar incident in Amman Saturday, guerrillas shot and wounded a soldier who declined to make a contribution. and disorders followed.

Cambodians Recapture Airfield

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
PHNOM PENH (AP) — Cambodian government forces retook the Siem Reap airfield in northwest Cambodia and drove Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces from the center of Kompong Thom, in central Cambodia, a government spokesman said today.

The spokesman said sporadic and confused fighting continued near the famed temple ruins at Angkor, Cambodia's chief tourist attraction six miles north of Siem Reap. Communist forces took the airfield Sunday morning, but government troops and Cambodian Air Force MIG jets drove them out in the afternoon, the spokesman said.

He reported that the airfield still was not sufficiently secure for planes to land there. Instead reinforcements were being flown to Battambang, 60 miles to the southwest, and then trucked to the battle in vehicles supplied by Communist China before the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Although there was some fighting near the tourist hotel over the weekend, the center of the town and its main market were unscathed, he said. The last tourists were evacuated last week.

No enemy troops were known to have entered the Angkor ruins, which extend over 40 square miles, the spokesman said. But he added that if they did, "there is a plan to deal with them." He did not elaborate.

Siem Reap is on the only highway from the Thai border 80 miles to the east to northern Cambodia. There, was speculation that the Communist forces were trying to get into position to block the troops the government of Thailand said last week it would send to Siem Reap to aid the Cambodian government.

In Bangkok, informed sources said today that the Thai government was considering withdrawing part of its 12,000-man Black Panther Division from South Vietnam to reinforce the embattled Cambodians at Siem Reap.

The government considers the Communist thrust into northwest Cambodia "a grave threat to Thailand," the sources said.

Capture of Siem Reap would also be a major propaganda victory for the Communists since it would give them control of the ruins at Angkor, the capital of the ancient Khmer kingdom.

The other Cambodian government gain, at Kompong Thom 80 miles southeast of Siem Reap, came after five days of fighting in the provincial capital on the main highway between Phnom Penh and Siem Reap.

Although the government spokesman said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had been cleared from the center of the town, he gave no other information on the situation there. The town had been reported surrounded by the enemy.

Two members of President Nixon's special fact-finding team visiting Indochina flew to Phnom Penh today for a brief meeting with Premier Lon Nol and then returned to Saigon. White House communications director Herb Klein and Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania made the trip, but Klein would not say what was discussed. Other sources in Saigon said the meeting was held at Shafer's initiative, but they did not know whether he carried any special message from President Nixon.

Klein, Shafer and the other 11 members of the team left Saigon this afternoon for the United States after four days in Vietnam and Cambodia. They planned to stop several days in Hawaii to draw up their report to Nixon.

Truman Not Impressed by Price Control

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "The administration of price control is an extraordinarily difficult and complex business, and it can work only if the people generally give it their support."

So said President Harry S. Truman as he regretfully canceled price controls Nov. 9, 1946. World War II was over, and the initial OPA—for Office of Price Administration—were dirty words to businessmen.

Congress, under pressure from farm and industry groups, had weakened the law seriously. Many sellers sabotaged ceilings by withholding goods—partly to get better prices, partly to force decontrol.

"This withholding is becoming so serious as to threaten key segments of the economy with paralysis," said Truman's message.

"The plain fact is that, under this inadequate law, price control has lost the popular support needed to make it work."

So the nation's first great plunge into direct interference with the free market ended in confusion, controversy—and more inflation. President Nixon is said to have decided while a young lawyer in OPA that direct controls were unworkable and harmful. He rejects them today.

For a while, during the war years, the ceilings had worked well. Wholesale prices rose less than 1 per cent a year, consumer prices by about 2 per cent. But by the time victory was at hand, both prices and wages were puncturing their ceilings.

There were many reasons why all administrations since Truman, along with most congressional leaders, have recoiled at the idea of wage-price ceilings, and which make the odds against ceilings exceedingly high at this moment.

1. If you cannot clamp ceilings on fast, if you have to wait while Congress debates the question instead of imposing an emergency freeze, the gain may be lost before it starts.

Much of the price damage during the Korean War came about before the control agency could get organized. Companies that smelled a price freeze coming began marking up prices.

Unions are just as alert to try to nail hourly wage increases at levels high enough to ride out an inflationary storm.

2. Voluntary ceilings, or hold-the-line orders lacking enforcement powers, don't work. The Korean War price controller, Michael V. Di Salle, later reported that just 6 per cent of businesses had complied with a voluntary freeze that preceded the actual operation of his Office of Price Stabilization.

You cannot set a speed limit without posting a policeman to enforce it, to use the phrase of Chairman Paul W. McCracken of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

3. There is no general agreement whether direct wage and price controls really work in the long run.

It was argued in World War II

Sen. Dan F. White Dies at 54

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — State Sen. Dan F. White, 54, of Fort Smith, died Sunday after apparently suffering a heart attack.

White was on a fishing trip with his family on Beaver Lake near here when he suffered the fatal seizure, Benton County Coroner Carl McKinney said.

White had served in the Senate from Position 1, District 24, which is Sebastian, Scott, Logan and Polk counties, since 1957. He was a member of the Arkansas House from 1951 through 1955.

He is survived by his widow and one son.

Rescue Pilot Aghast at Peruvian City Razed by Earthquake

By ISAAC A. LEVI
Associated Press Writer
ABOARD A USAF C130 OVER PERU (AP) — A grandstand view of death and destruction swept beneath a big U.S. C130 cargo plane as it dropped supplies to survivors of earthquake-torn North Central Peru Sunday.

"Unbelievable," said the pilot, Capt. Bill Hudspeth, a Vietnam veteran, as he guided the big Hercules up the 80-mile Huaylas Canyon. "Worse than anything I have seen in my life."

Hudspeth shook his head in disbelief as the transport passed over what was left of Huras, once a city of 50,000 at the southern entrance to the canyon, 180 miles north of Lima. Half the buildings had crumbled. Not a single roof remained intact.

The government says the earthquake a week ago may have killed 30,000 or more people; a United Nations observer says the count more likely will exceed 50,000. An estimated 100,000 more are homeless, injured or both.

Hudspeth reached for the throttle and headed his giant craft 21 miles up the gorge to Anta, the target of the airdrop. Anta, a village of about 2,000 was devastated, but by some freak of terrain enough of the town's tiny airstrip was spared from avalanches that hurtled down the 18,000-foot Andes to leave it still useable by small aircraft.

A quarter ton of sleeping bags, blankets and food rations was packed in plastic-wrapped survival kits and stapled into 12 large crates. The back bay of

High Court to Rule on Housing Veto

By BARRY SCHWID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide whether voters may exercise a veto over the construction of public housing in their community.

The court will examine this controversial issue next term, a brief announcement said. The hearing was granted on an appeal by the City Council of San Jose, Calif.

In other actions today, the court:

—Ruled 5 to 2 for the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad in a tangled dispute over union picketing at the Moncrief Yard outside Jacksonville, Fla.

—Held that the foreign registering of a ship does not exempt the owner from paying damages to seamen injured in U.S. waters.

—Dismissed the appeal of a Maryland man who complained he was given a harsher sentence after winning a new trial on a robbery charge.

Last April a federal court in San Francisco struck down an amendment to the California constitution that prohibited most state-financed public housing unless a majority of the residents of the city or town approved.

The amendment, Article 34, was put to a test beginning in 1966 when the City Council of San Jose voted 6 to 1 for public housing in the city. Under the amendment, a special municipal election was held in 1968 and 57,896 votes were cast for public housing and 68,527 against it. As a result the council and the public housing were blocked.

A group of San Jose welfare recipients then attacked the amendment and won past April's ruling.

U.S. Dist. Judge Robert F. Peckham, in giving the decision, said the amendment was

The board also defended itself against charges that it had been unresponsive to suggestions from its Advisory Council on Vocational-Technical Education.

The council has recommended that emphasis in vocational-technical education be shifted from the post-secondary schools to public high schools, and that no more post-secondary schools be built until enrollment at the 11 existing schools had increased appreciably.

Last week the council complained that its recommendations had been ignored.

Jim Dupree of Weldon, who was appointed to the board by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, said the council was mistaken when it said the recommendations hadn't been considered carefully by the board, and that he represented an implication in the council's resolution that the board had broken the law.

The resolution had said that the board "has not clearly directed the staff of the state Education Department nor has it clearly provided for the involvement and participation of the Advisory Council in accordance with the law."

Fires Set by Mobs in California

By BILL KOSMAN
Associated Press Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Young demonstrators set small fires at an off-beat bank and larger trash fires in surrounding streets early today in the Isla Vista campus community of the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Officers riding in trucks and on foot swept back and forth through the square-mile community and threw scores of tear gas canisters to disperse small groups of youths. The protesters pelted the officers with rocks and other missiles, then fled and regrouped on other streets.

By 3 a.m. most of the demonstrators had dispersed on their own. A squad of about 100 officers holding hard plastic riot shields made a final sweep of the streets. Then most of the officers left.

Sheriff's Capt. Joel Honey said about 15 gasoline bombs were confiscated but he did not elaborate on the circumstances.

For the fourth straight night Sunday, a crowd of chanting youths surged to the Bank of America branch, target of repeated attacks since February by youths who said they were protesting the establishment. About 250 sheriffs deputies and state highway patrol officers dispersed the crowd of about 800 young people and quickly put out small fires on the roof and in the lobby of the one-story prefabricated bank. Damage was minimal.

The original branch building was burned down by protesters last winter.

Deputies reported 29 arrests Sunday night and early today. As with 32 arrests Saturday, most were for failure to disperse and violation of a dusk-to-dawn curfew in force since Saturday night.

Man Killed on 67 Near Prescott

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — State Police said John R. Willen, 29, of Mineral Wells, Tex., was killed Sunday night as he walked along U.S. 67 near here. The police said Willen started to cross the highway and apparently took no notice of the traffic, causing a tractor-trailer truck to swerve to the opposite lane to avoid hitting him.

Then, police said, Willen turned around to walk back across in the direction he came and was struck by a car driven by Army Spec. 4 David L. Biddle, 35, of Dallas, Tex.

Officers said Biddle could not see Willen until too late because his vision was blocked by the tractor-trailer truck when it swerved in his lane to miss Willen.

Police did not know why Willen was walking along the highway.

Arkansas Press Meets on Friday

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The summer meeting of the Arkansas Press Association will be held here Friday and Saturday at the Arlington Hotel.

Walter H. Brovold of the University of Minnesota and Paul Greenberg, editor of the editorial page of the Pine Bluff Commercial will be the featured speakers.

All the Arkansas gubernatorial candidates will also hold a question-and-answer session with those attending.

Pine Bluff Census Drop Protested

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Pine Bluff Mayor Austin Franks says he thinks the city was shorted by several thousand persons in the 1970 census. He said Pine Bluff will pay for a special recount if necessary.

Franks said he wrote a letter to federal officials in Washington but added he doubts if the letter would get any results.

A special census taken in 1966 showed Pine Bluff having 57,899 residents, but preliminary figures of the current count show a decrease of more than 2,000 persons.

Vote for Separate Voc-Tech

Welby, Room 222 Win Emmys

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A doctor drama series, "Marcus Welby, M.D.," and a weekly school-room story, "Room 222" have won the most 1970 Emmys—three apiece.

A canceled series, "My World and Welcome to It," and its star William Windom won in the comedy category in Sunday night's television academy awards.

And a twice-canceled series, "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," brought a second Emmy to star Hope Lange. Recently canceled by ABC, the show was dropped by NBC last year, when Miss Lange was similarly honored.

Veteran actors Robert Young and Peter Ustinov each received a third Emmy award.

Young won as the general practitioner in "Marcus Welby, M.D.," picked as the outstanding dramatic series. James Brodin, who plays his assistant, was named best supporting actor.

Ustinov's third Emmy was for his performance as a Jewish merchant who provides a home for a black youth from a slum neighborhood in "A Storm in Summer." The show was picked as the outstanding single dramatic program.

The 22nd awards of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences were telecast from the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles and Carnegie Hall in New York.

Dick Cavett, host in New York, set the tone for an evening of emotion, applause and laughter by explaining: "This is the show that each year asks the question, 'Is radio really improved by the addition of pictures?'"

Among the highlights, between commercials for bras, girdles, take-home fried chicken and cigarettes, were——The naming of "Room 222" as the outstanding new series and two of its stars, Michael Constantine and Karen Valentine, as best supporting actor and actress in a comedy.

—Britain's David Frost, winning for outstanding variety series with his syndicated talk show.

—Susan Hampshire, best actress in a dramatic series for the British-made "The Forsyte Saga."

—Anne Bancroft was honored along with producers and writers for her special, "Annie, the Women in the Life of a Man," named the outstanding variety or music program.

In categories of entertainment, news and technical crafts, NBC collected 27 Emmys, CBS 19, ABC 13 and National Educational Television 8.

Gail Fisher won as supporting actress in a drama series, "Mannix."

The winner among classical musical programs was the National Ballet of Canada's performance of "Cinderella."

For achievement in sports programming Emmys went to CBS, "The NFL Games" and ABC's "Wide World of Sports."

Astronaut Charles Conrad received a special award for his photography during the Apollo 12 moon landing.

The NET series "Sesame Street" was selected for achievement in children's programming.

A citation described as "a vote of confidence, encouragement and support" went to the directors of the three networks' news divisions. A salute was voiced to George Syvertsen, CBS newsman found slain in Cambodia.

Comedian Bill Cosby, master of ceremonies in Los Angeles, was nominated in four categories but won in none.

"How will I answer to my son?" he asked.

Cavett, also a nominee, responded in New York. "We losers can console ourselves with the thought that we just weren't good enough."

MATRIMONIAL PROBLEM
NEW DELHI (AP) — New Delhi's zoo has a matrimonial problem. Some 28 animals have become either widows or widowers and the zoo is having trouble finding new mates. A Food and Agriculture Ministry spokesman said overseas missions had been asked to help look for such animals as a hoolock gibbon, a mus-tached guenon, a red kangaroo and a golden cat.

June Is Proclaimed State Dairy Month

Little Rock, June 3 — Arkansas Dairy Princess, Linda Edwards of Harrison, brought a tall pitcher of cold milk to Governor Winthrop Rockefeller's office this week for what turned into a long afternoon of visits by various delegations and a press conference. The Governor enjoyed four glasses of milk and proclaimed June Dairy Month in Arkansas.

He is pictured getting a refill after handing Miss Edwards the official proclamation. H.B. Spence of Cabot, president of the Arkansas Division of AMPI, is holding an inflated milk rocket labelled "Drink Milk for Energy to Burn."

Chinese Girl is 2nd in Compton Meet

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Women's track and field used to be overlooked by track fans in America. It's taken a foreigner to change things.

Chi Cheng, the brilliant girl from Nationalist China, was runner-up for athlete of the meet Saturday in the Compton Invitational track meet at Memorial Coliseum. Arizona State miler Chuck LaBenz won the honor in a close vote.

"But for the first time in my life," said Calvin Brown, one of Chi's coaches, "the people in the stands wanted a woman to win the award."

Writers selected LaBenz for his brilliant, come-from-behind victory in the Compton Mile. The Arizona State senior ran 3:59.5 to defeat defending NCAA mile king Marty Liquori of Villanova.

It was the second successive holder, and a host of other sub-four-minute mile for LaBenz "name" vaulters.

Yarborough Victory Is in Doubt

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
CAMBRIDGE JUNCTION, Mich. (AP) — Cale Yarborough felt the caution flags were his salvation but, according to some drivers, he took unfair advantage of one of those flags to win the $72,000 Motor State 400 stock car race Sunday.

Subsequently he may not actually be the winner of his first major NASCAR race since he captured the Motor State 500 at the same Michigan International Speedway track last June. But winner last week of the Kennedy Games mile in Berkeley in 3:58.9.

Chi won two races, taking the 100-yard dash in 10.6 and the 440 in 52.6. In the 100, she leaped into a 10-yard lead halfway through and coasted home against a 3.1-mile-per-hour wind. The quarter, however, was the stunner.

"I don't like the quarter. I don't train at all for it," she said after the race. "Actually, it's too long for me. I run it only to improve my 220 time." That sort of talk might lead one to believe she had lost.

But her winning time was only two tenths of a second off the world record of 52.4 set five years ago by Australia's Judy Pollock.

John Carlos was the meet's only other double winner. He captured the 100 in 9.5 despite a miserable start. In the 220, he jumped to a big lead and won in 20.8, a good time on the slow Coliseum track.

Possibly the biggest upset of the meet was in the pole vault where former San Jose State vaulter Sam Caruthers negotiated 16-6 to beat John Pennel, the world record holder, Bob Seagren, the former record holder, and a host of other "name" vaulters.

it may take several days to settle the protests filed soon after the race by several drivers concerning the order of finish in the first nine positions.

"Caution always means bad luck for someone, but I was glad it gave me a chance to catch up," Yarborough said before the protests were revealed.

"I knew if there were enough caution flags out I could catch up," said the stocky driver from Timmonsville S.C., who could collect $14,550 with a victory.

But it is precisely his "catching up" during the caution slow-ups that prompted the squabble. At least five drivers, including apparent runner-up Pete Hamilton, fifth-place Bobby Isaac, and fourth-place LeeRoy Yarborough, were among the dissidents.

Several claimed Yarborough, 1968 leading money winner with $167,000, gained a lap by passing Hamilton during one of three caution flag periods.

However, a spokesman for the group of scorers said that final charts credit Yarborough with an official 200 laps, or 400 miles, over the two-mile course.

The squabble will be settled after scoring charts are sent to NASCAR's headquarters in Daytona Beach, Fla., for review, according to the sanctioning body's assistant chief scorer Don Matlock who was in charge of timing at the race.

The problem is a procedural one under which race stewards could take a lap away from Yarborough and give the victory to Hamilton. Other drivers could also move up in order of finish.

It was a brilliantly executed race before 47,600 fans at MIS, located about 75 miles west of Detroit in the Irish Hills vacation area.

Yarborough held off Hamilton's bid during the final 100 miles after seemingly being out of contention early. The two battled wheel-to-wheel in the final 20 laps, including a slight brush of tires at 188 laps and a near-bump at the crucial 198th lap in which Hamilton fell behind for good.

Yarborough, whose career almost ended in a serious accident in the Texas 500 last December, only pitted seven times to 10 for Hamilton. The first yellow caution flag came at the 133rd lap and while most leaders took advantage of the slowdown by coming in the pits, Yarborough took advantage of it to make up lost ground.

Hamilton, of Dedham, Mass., was top qualifier in his 1970 Plymouth at 162.737 MPH. Behind him in the unofficial finish were David Pearson in a '69 Ford, LeeRoy Yarborough in a '69 Mercury, and Isaac in a '69 Dodge.

The first four finishers were only 7 1/2 seconds apart.

Lie Detector Clears Man of Arson

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — James Carl Lambert, 24, of Warren, Ark., was cleared Sunday of charges in the May 24 fire that destroyed the main building of the Bogalusa High School.

An itinerant carnival worker, Lambert had confessed to starting the fire and waived extradition from Arkansas last week. However, authorities said a polygraph test showed his confession was a lie.

Lambert has been charged with burglary of a Bogalusa service station and several counts of auto theft.

Police Chief Thomas J. Mixon said Sunday that an investigation has shown that persons said they saw Lambert elsewhere during the period the fire was started.

Charges were initially brought against Lambert when men wanted in connection with a local burglary said they heard Lambert say he was going to burn the school.

Graduation Speakers Split on Views

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey outlined a "new bill of rights and responsibilities" and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie spoke of student dissent in a busy day of commencement ceremonies at colleges around the nation.

Author John Holt, a critic of the existing educational system, refused an honorary degree at Wesleyan University, declaring that schools are among "the chief enslaving institutions" in American society.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., told Milton College graduates that President Nixon "made a tragic mistake in Cambodia. He was wrong." Former astronaut Michael Collins said at Stonehill College that he backed the President's Cambodia decision "100 per cent."

After the recent weeks of dissent and disruption on the nation's campuses, the Indochina war and its domestic repercussions were very much on the minds of both students and speakers at many of the ceremonies Sunday.

Humphrey, in an address to 280 Hamline University graduates in St. Paul, Minn., put the right to peace at the top of his new bill of rights for the 21st century: "In our day this means southeast Asia. It means an end to a costly and tragic war."

He also listed the right to justice with "equal treatment under the law and equal opportunity within the social structure" and the right of "access to the political process."

On the other side, he said modern man had the responsibility to participate and speak out, to protect ideals in the face of force, to respect and defend the rights of others and to give time in public service.

Elliot L. Richardson, the President's nominee for secretary of health, education and welfare, told graduates at Lowell Technological Institute there had been a "generational difference" in the nation over foreign policy.

"I firmly believe, nonetheless, that these disagreements can be resolved," he said at the school in Lowell, Mass.

Richardson added that the administration has been listening to youth and said: "I assure you that my own door will still be open when I move to my new assignment." He is now under-secretary of state.

Muskie told more than 1,200 graduating students at the University of New Hampshire in Durham that "student dissent has not been a disease of the body politic. It has instead been a welcome sign of health."

The Maine Democrat said the unrest was "a sign that millions of young people would rather improve America than escape or reject her ... that they would rather have America united than fearful and insecure."

Education critic Holt told the 280 undergraduate and 195 graduate students receiving degrees that the present universal compulsory education system was harmful.

"WHAT'S SHE BUYING NOW?" Actually, this man is a "hamal" or burden bearer in Istanbul. Some master hamals can carry loads of up to 300 pounds. Working eight to 10 hours a day, they earn about $4.

365 Million Cleared for ABM System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended $365.8 million in construction money for the next year of the embattled Safeguard antiballistic missile program.

It is $30 million more than has been appropriated for the past three fiscal years and is for use during the year starting July 1. It is separate from weapons procurement money, which amounts to hundreds of millions more dollars.

The Safeguard money was included in a $1.99 billion military construction bill sent to the House floor for consideration later this week. This is $435.7 million more than was provided for the current year but $137.7 million less than was requested.

Critics of the Safeguard program contend it is uneeded, too costly and is goading the Soviets into a renewed arms race.

The Senate narrowly approved Safeguard funds on a tie vote last year, and this year critics are girding for another tussle over the military budget, focusing on the Safeguard program.

The committee said the money would provide for construction projects at the Malmstrom base near Great Falls, Mont., and at the Grand Forks, N.D., site, construction and access roads at the Whiteman base in Missouri and for advance preparation at five other sites in the second phase of the program.

Included in the bill was $25 million for construction programs in Vietnam, largely for support of the Vietnamese army and for lines of communication, in addition to $109 million unobligated carryover funds.

Also included was $75.4 million for control of air and water pollution at defense sites.

and the Korean War they actually suppressed and distorted market forces, so that inflation broke out with extra fury when the controls were lifted or broke down.

McCracken contends it is possible controls can leave a country worse off and tend to result in fiscal laziness about finding a basic cure for the real problems behind the imbalances of supply and demand.

4. Most of those who dealt with the wartime controls agreed with Truman that public support is vital to effective controls, even temporarily. There is doubt such support now exists, among the public or in Congress, for freezing wages and prices during a limited and unpopular war.

That problem did not exist after Pearl Harbor. The OPA was already in being, although mostly on paper.

And people remembered World War I had brought a rise of something over 100 per cent in U.S. wholesale prices when there had been no formal wage-price controls.

World War II brought an increase of nearly 40 per cent in U.S. wholesale prices from the fall of Poland in 1939 to the surrender of Japan, with price and wage controls from 1942 on. The galloping price inflation was slowed to a crawl in the years 1943-5. But when the ceilings began to crumble after V-E Day and then V-J Day, prices shot up again. The ceilings were badly tattered by November 1946, when OPA finally died.

There was no expectation they would be needed again. But the Korean War came only five years later along with new price-wage ceilings.

The government was unprepared for action. Wholesale prices rose about 12 per cent in 1951, after Red China's entry into the Korean fighting, and consumer prices went up about 8 per cent.

Still, the Office of Price Stabilization did a reasonably good job of holding prices down with the help of military successes, an outpouring of civilian production, and an impressive display of persuasiveness and jawboning. A recession also helped in 1953.

When President Dwight D. Eisenhower took office in 1953, he left no doubt price ceilings were on the way out. The OPS went out of business officially in April 1953.

The country's first price control agency, the OPA, was created April 11, 1941, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to prevent "price spiralling, rising cost of living, profiteering and inflation."

Soon after Pearl Harbor, Roosevelt named Chester Bowles, a highly successful advertising executive, to head the OPA. The Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 gave OPA clear statutory powers to issue a sweeping decree setting prices on most goods at the highest level charged in the previous month.

There still were many gaps in the ceilings, including 40 per cent of the food in the average consumer's budget. It was April 1943 before Roosevelt issued a hold-the-line order on meat, but-

Yarborough, chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee. "I see in this hard days ahead for health and education programs."

Finch himself said of his new job "it's a higher calling, but a lower salary."

A counsellor to the President receives $42,500 a year; a Cabinet secretary $60,000.

Finch had faced administrative problems and public controversy at HEW, and there had been speculation he might leave the government entirely.

Finch joins a White House staff hierarchy which has drawn complaints among some Republican senators who have been saying privately they have trouble getting through the staff to the President.

H. R. Haldeman, the chief of staff, and John D. Ehrlichman, an assistant to the President and top man in the domestic affairs field, are rated as the most powerful among Nixon's aides.

Finch, who resigned as lieutenant governor of California to enter the Cabinet, has been a close friend of Nixon for more than 20 years.

"I regret losing him at HEW, but I need him here," Nixon said at the White House Saturday.

Nixon said Finch now will fill a major advisory role, counseling him on domestic matters and also on some foreign policy areas.

The President said Finch will travel with him regularly, as he did throughout most of the 1968 presidential campaign. In 1960, Finch was manager of the Nixon campaign for the White House.

Despite that long association, Finch had not emerged, as some had expected, as a potent force in White House decision-making. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell appears to have become foremost among Nixon consultants in the Cabinet.

The President said he had hoped Finch could serve both as adviser and HEW Cabinet secretary. He said experience had shown the task of running that agency to be a full-time job.

Finch was the first man to leave the Nixon Cabinet.

ter, fish and fresh fruits and vegetables.

But Congress already was, weakening controls.

Fearful of grade labeling, it rejected OPA's efforts to enforce ceilings by quality standards. An effort to roll back some prices stalled because of congressional reluctance to hurt farmers or squeeze producers' profits.

Wide-range rationing by then was an overwhelming fact of life. And black markets flourished in many commodities.

On June 29, 1946, Truman vetoed a bill which would have weakened and extended the law.

He asked for a strong new bill but got a weak one, the statute under which the wage and price controls were killed.

Congress passed a bill in 1946 extending the wage-price control law, but riddled it with weakening amendments. On June 29, 1946, Truman vetoed the extension bill saying it would have added $3 billion a year to consumer prices and destroyed wage stabilization.

So, for a time, federal control of prices and wages was dead, and as far as the World War II price chief is concerned, they should remain buried.

"I shudder to think of putting them into effect again, in anything short of a catastrophe," Bowles said in an interview. They would be a "dreadful mistake."

Laird and N. Atlantic Allies Meet

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer
VENICE (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird met today with the other six members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's nuclear planning group to discuss the Soviet Union's nuclear might and how to counter it in an European war.

Authoritative sources said Laird would give the defense ministers from Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Denmark and Turkey a detailed and up-to-date account of the Soviet land, air and sea nuclear armory, based on U.S. intelligence reports.

The sources said that during the two-day, semiannual meeting Laird would also describe the progress of his government's controversial Safeguard antiballistic missile system.

The nuclear planning group was set up to give the non-nuclear members of NATO a voice in the plans for the wartime use of the American and British nuclear weapons which constitute the alliance's protection against the Soviet nuclear war.

Heretofore, the group has dealt largely with tactical nuclear weapons, smaller than the intercontinental giants. At the end of 1969 it drew up guidelines for their use in case of a massive Soviet attack on Western Europe.

Western military leaders say that such a Soviet onslaught, though unlikely, has to be planned for. They think they could only hold it back for a few weeks or even days before they had to use tactical nuclear weapons, hoping the Soviets would halt for fear that the bigger weapons would be used next.

The meeting in Venice is expected to order studies into possible Soviet replies to the first use of tactical nuclear weapons and what the Western countries should do then.

It will be some time before the studies lead to decisions. As they continue, however, the studies probably will affect the rethinking of European defense needs for the 1970s. A general overhaul of plans is to be decided at a meeting in Brussels Thursday of Laird and the defense ministers of the other 12 countries actively engaged in NATO military cooperation. They include all members except France and Iceland, which has no armed forces.

Scott Looks to Security of His Post

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott is quietly obtaining pledges of support from his GOP colleagues in case of a bid to unseat him as Senate Republican leader next January.

Sources close to the Pennsylvania senator say that as of now he would win votes from 27 of the 43 GOP members, with one more said to be uncertain.

That would give Scott a tighter grip on the leader's spot than last September when he was elected 24 to 19 over Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., following the death of Everett McKinley Dirksen.

Rumors have persisted that conservative Republican senators, who have always been opposed to Scott, plan to mount a challenge when the 92nd Congress opens in January.

GOP conservatives' ire increased late last year when Scott turned on the President and voted against his Supreme Court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth.

There also have been indications lately of strain between Scott and his deputy, Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, but the GOP leader insists they have no serious differences.

Scott says he sometimes takes a deliberately softer line against administration opponents than Griffin because as party leader he would have to be involved in compromise discussions.

The November elections, however, could hold the key to any successful drive against Scott. Only 10 Republicans' seats—including Scott's—are up in the elections, compared with 25 Democratic seats. A large GOP gain or loss could throw in new factors.

Scott is trying to convert the election to his benefit, accepting invitations to speak in behalf of present and future colleagues in return for pledges of support next January.

The senator also is eager to scotch rumors that the White House is interested in displacing him. Thus, he was pleased that President Nixon's endorsement last week of a key amendment in the current debate on Cambodia was made in a letter to Scott.

And Scott promptly issued a pointed statement: "I am extremely pleased with the letter and I have twice discussed it with the President."

Russians in 100th Orbit of Earth

By JOHN BAUSMAN
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Vitaly Sevastyanov completed their 100th orbit of the earth today in the seventh day of their flight aboard the spaceship Soyuz 9.

A short official report said the cosmonauts retired as usual this morning "after completing their regular working day in outer space."

Soyuz 9 has broken the Soviet record for flight duration but has another week to go before it reaches the U.S. record. How long the flight is to last has not been disclosed.

An article in Pravda today emphasized the value of manned space flights over automated satellites.

"No electronic computer or automatic device can replace man fully in carrying out a number of assignments in space," said the Soviet Communist party newspaper. "This is because space crews are entrusted with the more subtle, creative tasks to solve for which it is necessary to take into account numerous factors often conflicting in nature."

Soviet scientists have questioned the value of America's manned moon shots, suggesting that automatic devices could accomplish the same purpose without the great human risks. But they have not produced an unmanned spacecraft that could land and take off from the moon, let alone bring back materials for study on earth. And while they questioned the manned moon shots they did not drop their own program of sending up men for experiments and tests while orbiting the earth.

Carruth for Governor, APA Choice

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The American Party of Arkansas convention Saturday chose Walter L. Carruth, the party's chairman, as its candidate for governor and selected candidates for several other offices.

The party chose Hubert L. Blanton, 51, a feed manufacturer of Hughes, for lieutenant governor; John Norman Warnock of Camden, 57, a retired judge advocate for the Army, for attorney general, and James L. Dauer, 48, of near Imboden, who is retiring as a civilian aviation worker in the Army, for the 1st Congressional District seat held by Rep. Bill Alexander, a Democrat.

The APA convention also selected three candidates for the Arkansas House and two for the state Senate.

Carruth, 38, a farmer, said in his acceptance speech he would bow out of the race if either of the two major parties came up with a gubernatorial candidate acceptable to the APA.

Warnock acknowledged that a reason for nominating him was the hope that he could pick up 15 per cent of the vote in the general election and thus maintain the party's status under state law as a party through the 1972 elections.

The party wants to remain alive for the 1972 election in anticipation that George Wallace will again run for president. Carruth told the delegates that liberals would take over Arkansas if the APA vanished from the political scene.

Nominated for the Arkansas House was Dewey Taft, who will seek Position 2 in District 1, which is Benton County; Eldon Wright, who will seek Position 1 in the 6th District, which includes Randolph and Clay counties, and Asa C. Douglas of Fort Smith, who will seek the election of his choice in the 12th District, which includes Crawford and Sebastian counties.

Nominated for the state Senate were M. L. Greer Sr. of Van Buren, the party's national committeeman, for the Third District, which includes Madison, Crawford, Franklin and Johnson counties, and Percy Kale Jr. of Marvell for Position 1 in the 21st District, which includes Monroe, Le, Arkansas and Phillips counties.

The APA adopted a platform Saturday opposing the proposed new constitution, new taxes and lowering the voting age to 18.

The platform was adopted with only two of about 50 delegates dissenting as the APA opened the convention.

The APA set filing fees of $2,500 for governor, $1,000 for other state constitutional offices, $1,500 for the U.S. House and Senate and $100 for each county or a district office.

Other planks in the party's platform stated an opposition to any type of gun, firearm or ammunition control or regulation, said the state's prison must be self-supporting and declared that "law and order" must be maintained in the country.

No Live Shells in Train Wreck

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP) — State Police said today there is no explosive material aboard a Cotton Belt freight train that derailed five miles north of here Sunday.

Officials had said that two carloads of Army ammunition were among the 30-35 cars involved in the derailment, but reports today indicated the ammunition was only hollow projectiles which do not contain explosive material.

A faulty switch was blamed for the mishap. No one was injured.

ISRAELI PLANES

that in other action Sunday an Israeli soldier was killed in tank and artillery battles across the Syrian border, in the occupied Golan Heights. It was the first major flareup across that frontier since April 2, when Israeli warplanes raided Arab positions after four days of fighting.

Syria said six civilians were wounded in the cross-border exchanges.

Col. Muammar Kadafi, the radical Libyan strongman, received a tumultuous, throaty welcome Sunday as he arrived for talks in Beirut on the last leg of his tour of Arab capitals. Kadafi is trying to drum up support for a united front against Israel.

The Eritrean Liberation Front, a Damascus-based group that seeks independence for the Moslem Eritrean section of Ethiopia, charged Sunday that Emperor Haile Selassie has granted Israel the right to set up air and naval bases on two small, nameless islands off the Eritrean coast. The front said that Israel, in exchange, would help quell the nine-year-old Eritrean rebellion. The Israeli Foreign Ministry said the charge was "a completely made-up propaganda fabrication which has no foundation in fact."

In the Israeli-occupied Gaza Strip, the ex-mayor of Gaza City, Munitz El-rayef, went on trial on charges of being a member of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a guerrilla group. He pleaded innocent.

In Washington, Secretary of State William Rogers said that the United States would decide
